

Henry Ford Hospital
International Symposium
Enzymes: Units of Biological Structure and Function
DETROIT 2, MICHIGAN

January 14, 1955

PROGRAM COMMITTEE

Advisory:

CARL F. CORI
WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI

DAVID E. GREEN
UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN
MADISON, WISCONSIN

ALBERT L. LEHNINGER
JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY
BALTIMORE, MARYLAND

ELMER H. STOTZ
UNIVERSITY OF ROCHESTER
ROCHESTER, NEW YORK

ARNOLD D. WELCH
YALE UNIVERSITY
NEW HAVEN, CONNECTICUT

Local:

OLIVER H. GAEBLER, CHAIRMAN
CLARENCE E. RUPE, SECRETARY
BROCK E. BRUSH
PAUL R. DUMKE
DONALD G. REMP
THOMAS P. SINGER

Dr. J. Lederberg
Department of Genetics
University of Wisconsin
Madison, Wisconsin

Dear Dr. Lederberg:

An International Symposium on the subject: "Enzymes: Units of Biological Structure and Function," will be held at Henry Ford Hospital, November 1, 2, 3, 1955. Advisory members of the Program Committee have selected you as a speaker who could make a real contribution to this event.

Although not quite all the topics have been determined, and some of the speakers may find it impossible to come, the enclosed tentative program will give you an idea of the nature and scope of the Symposium. The general theme will be the interrelations between Enzymology and other fields, for it is evident that progress in each of the individual fields increases the need for integration. Also, gaps in our information, which remain as challenges, become quite evident in a Symposium of this type.

The topic assigned to you on the First Afternoon Session is descriptive of what is wanted by the Program Committee. If you can accept, please send me a title for your presentation, as it is to appear in the program. A final manuscript will not be required until the Symposium is held, but should be available then, to facilitate prompt publication.

The Hospital will reimburse you, on arrival, for traveling expenses equal to the round trip first class plane fare from your home to Detroit. You will also receive an honorarium of $125 in lieu of other expenses. Your participation is greatly desired, and we hope that you will find it possible to come. Please inform me of your decision as soon as possible.

Very truly yours,

O. H. Gaebler
Program Committee

OHG:dr